A PLACE TO HUNT OR TRAIN ALL YEAR

Wolf River Game Farm is a family operation with a full-time resident manager. Established in 1986. We offer hunting early fall to early spring with Bobwhite Quail, Chukar Partridge and Pheasants. Or, perhaps try our Honor System Training Program from mid May to October 1 and train your own dog with our Quail, Chukar, Pigeons, Pheasants or Mallards, with a choice of five different training fields.

Located just 35 miles from Green Bay or Appleton, Wolf River Game Farm consists of over 450 acres where hunting areas are spread out eliminating interference from other groups. Special attention is given to a variety of cover to maintain ideal conditions for year-round activities and still hold those late season birds. Fields of corn/sorghum and milo are planted to enhance natural areas of marsh grasses, brushy thickets and cattails with ponds to cool the dogs in warm weather.

European shoots are great group activity for 10 to 20 people where everyone enjoys superb pass shooting on your choice of Pheasant or Bobwhite Quail. If you have a group interested, call the farm for more details. Throughout the year we do offer open sign-ups for any number of people. Call to put your name on our mailing list for these events.

TRAINING PROGRAM OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Wolf River Game Farms training program is a unique resource our reliable and trustworthy customers allow us to offer. Training from mid May through the end of September, holding pens are maintained in our south field with Bobwhite Quail, Chukar Partridge, Pigeons and Pheasants stocked as available. No reservations are taken and a one bird minimum per 30 minutes is required. Training membership required.

You are allowed to shoot our birds all year. Training takes place in up to five different locations as marked by signs in those areas.

This allows multiple trainers to work simultaneously. Ponds are located near all areas to help during warm weather. We also offer electronic release traps for rent while using our facilities along with various training aids. Strays are FREE of charge. When finished with the training session, go to the former clubhouse and complete an envelope with the information requested, place the payment in the envelope, seal and insert into the drop box.
